FOR HIGH PLACES

Not Many Nominations Yesterday, but the Lack in Quantity Made Up in Quality.

Robert Lincoln to go to England, Murat Halstead to Germany and Thorndyke Rice to Russia.

Grant's Virginia campaign as captain, practiced law in Chicago and became secretary of war under President Garfield, remaining in that post under President Arthur. Since his retirement in 1885 he has been practicing law in Chicago.

Allen Thorndyke Rice, nominated to be minister to Russia, was born in Massachusetts. He is a graduate of Oxford university, England, and proprietor of the North American Review. He also holds a controlling interest in the prominent Parisian newspaper, Le Matin, and has contributed largely to literature, while taking an active part in politics.

George Bailey Loring, of Massachusetts, taken an active part in politics as a member of the republican party.

Murat Halstead, nominated for United States minister to Germany, was born in 1829, at Ross, Butler county, Ohio, and spent his minority on a farm. At eighteen he began writing for the newspapers, at first contributing to the lighter class of romances. In 1857 he finished his schooling at a farmers' college near Cincinnati, and then did local newspaper reporting on several Cincinnati papers. In 1853 he became manager of a department on the Cincinnati Commercial, and the follow year he acquired a small interest in the paper. When the Commercial combined with the Gazette the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette immediately became the recognized organ of the Ohio republicans. Mr. Halstead has a fine presence, genial manners and immense energy. He has always been a republican of a very pronounced type.

John Hicks, who will go to Peru as minister of the United States, is a native American, 42 years of age. He comes from Oshkosh, the home of Senator Sawyer, and is the proprietor and editor of the Oshkosh Northwestern. He has several times been elected president of the Wisconsin State Press association, but has never before held public office.

It is Now Gov. White. WASHINGTON, March 27 .- Among those onfirmed by the senate this afternoon were the following: Francis F. Warren, to be governor of Wyoming territory; Benj. F. WASHINGTON, March 27 -The republian senators held a well attended caucus to-day prior to the meeting of the senate The subject under consideration was with eference to putting all clerks on the annual lists, payment to be made out of the contingent fund. The general sentiment was in favor of doing this, but the question of legality was raised. The caucus decided the employment of clerks which would result in an overdraft upon the contingent fund was illegal. Therefore the scheme to make all committee clerks annual clerks will fail. A resolution was adopted, however, to give Senator Vance, of North Carolina, a personal clerk. He has lost one eye and the sight of the other is failing, and his colleagues deemed it only just that he should be spared the necessity of using his remaining eye to conduct his official correspondence. It was also finally decided not to continue the debate on the election outrages. The general opinion, so far as expressed, was that the senate might reasonably expect to be able to adjourn Wednesday or Thursday of next week. nual lists, payment to be made out of the

The resolutions heretofore offered by Butier, declaring the tenure of the president pro tempore does not expire at the meeting of congress after a recess, but is held at the pleasure of the senate, was taken up, and George made a constitutional argument in opposition. The resolution was referred, and the senate then went into secret session, and at 3:30 adjourned.

Mis First Month's Salary. WASHINGTON, March 26. — President Harrison received his first month's salary to-day. It amounted to $3,888 88 and was lelivered to him in the form of a treasury draft and was for the month of March, minus the first three days. Cleveland re-ceived the president's salary for that por-tion of the month.

Sketches of the Nominees.

Washington, March 26.—Robert Todd Lincoln, who was to day nominated to be minister to England, is 45 years of age and is the son of Abraham Lincoln. He graduated from Harvard college, served through Grant's Virginia campaign as captain, practiced law in Chicago and became secretary of war under President Garfield, repaired to the control of the suggestion of the ship which had brought him back to the United States.

From that judgment of demand he has appealed to this court. The counsel for the appellant contend that the question involved in this case is whether that portion which had been that the question involved in this case is whether that portion where the provisions of the soic ground that under the provisions of the soic ground that unde the appellant contend that the question involved in this case is whether that portion of the act of Oct. I, 1888, declaring laborers' certificates void and of no effect is valid and constitutional. As will be perceived, this proposition involves a question of both national and international importance. The counsel further contend that the laborers who departed from the United States with these return certificates were guaranteed by the treaty between the United States and China of Nov. 17, 1880, and the act of May 6, 1882, the right to go and come, and without warning or notice this treaty is virtually abrogated and the vested rights acquired thereunder are entirely swept away. The faith and honor of the government, they say, is also involved in the case now before the court. These certificates contain upon their face a promise on the part of the government that the holders thereof shal upon presentation of the certificates be entitled to return and re-enter the United States. persons are warned that under the terms of the act of congress any person who shall occupy any of said lands before the time mentioned will be forever debarred from making entries thereon, and officers of the United States are required to strictly enforce this act.

The following is a description of the boundaries of the territory included in the proclamation: Beginning at a point where the degree of longitude 98 west from Greenwich as surveyed in the year 1858 and 1871 intersects the Canadian river, thence north along and with said degree to a point where the same intersects the Cimarron river; thence up said river along the right bank thereof to a point where the same is intersected by the south line of what is known as the Cherokee lands, lying west of the Arkansas river, or as the Cherokee outlet, said line being the north line of the lands ceded by the Muscogee or Creek Nation of Indians to the United States by the treaty of June 14, 1883; thence east along said line to a point where the same intersects the west line of lands set apart as a reservation for the Pawnee Indians, by the act of congress approved April 10, 1876, being the range line between ranges 4 and 5, east of the Indian meridian; thence south on said line to a point where the same intersects the middle of the main channel of the Cimarron river; thence up said river, along the middle of the higher channel thereof, to a point where the same intersects the range line between ranges 1 east and range I west (being the Indian meridian), which line forms the western boundary of the reservations set apart respectively for the Iowa and Kickapoo Indians by executive orders dated Aug. 15, 1888; thence south along said range line or meridian to the point where the same enters the right bank of the North Fork of the Canadian river; thence up said river along the right bank thereof to the point where the same is intersected by the west line of the reservation occupied by the Citizen band of Pottowottamies and Shawnee dians, set apart under the provisions

CERTAINLY THE CONSERVA.

NEW YORK, March 27 .- It is now generally believed the steamer Conserva sunk with all on board, though Henry Kuhnhard has a different theory. He believes if the Conserva collided with another vessel, she would not be cut in two, but that the other vessel would. He thinks the Conserva's boats were lowered to help the persons on the other vessel and abandonded on account of a heavy sea. He thinks the white chairs and sofas belonged to the steamer Nanticoke, not the Conserva. The latter's furniture is painted in colors.

Naticoke, not the Conserva. The latter's furniture is painted in colors.

New York, March 27.—There is little doubt now that the Conserva is the ill-fated ship which strewed the Virginia coast last week with wreckage of her timbers. Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, the Conserva was unseaworthy. It is said by the oiler who was engaged for the trip, but who declined to go after finding out the condition of the vessel, that the boilers leaked, as did also her huil. The Conserva had twenty-seven souls on board. Her crew was entirely composed of southern haif-breeds and Malays. Capt. John Henry Ankers, who has had a long and somewhat checkered career in West Indian waters, commanded the ship. The other officers were: First mate, Joseph Sherwood; second mate, John McCarthy; chief engineer, Chas. Linkham, of Brooklyn; first assistant engineer, Chas. V. Elder. Carl Kuhnhart, an experienced yachtsman of New York, was also on board.

SPOKANE FALLS, March 27 .- [Special to the Independent.]—Work was commenced to-day on the excavation for a grand opera se, to be erected by A. M. Cannon and J. J. Browne, prominent bankers here. It will have a seating capacity of 2,000 and will cost $300,000. Work was also comced to-day on a five story granite building by Kaufman & Tilton, to cost $100,000. Contracts have been let for a five story building by A. M. Cannon and Capt. Ed-ward Hunter. It will be pressed brick and stone and will cost $70,000.

A private exhibition of the motor is promised as soon as a tube can be adjusted and will probably take place in a week or

A Swindler in Priestly Garb. TORONTO. March 27 .- A Toronto swintler, who plays the part of a priest and entraps jewelers into selling him watches and jewelry on forged checks, was arrested nere last night. It is believed he is wanted in England and the leading cities of the U ited States for work of this kind. The trick which led to his arrest was an attempt to get $1,500 worth of diamonds for a present to the pope from the priests at Toronto. Barnett was taken before a police magistrate to-day, admitted his guilt and was remanded for a week in order that his record might be examined.

WATTERSON'S PRAISE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 27 .- Regarding President Harrison's diplomatic appoint ments, Mr. Watterson will say in to-morrow's Courier-Journal: "There is no deny ing that the administration is getting in some very astute political and party work in its appointments to office. With the exceptions of Wanamaker and Tanner, Mr. Harrison, whilst selecting active and orthodox republicans of the most pron on, has shocked no popular or noral sensibility, but has rather impressed moral sensibility, but has rather impressed the country with the idea that he is a clear-headed, well-intentioned man, working for the best with great intelligence within his own party lines. The batch of diplomatic nominations sent to the senate yesterday completes the hist of foreign placed of importance to be filled, and though containing some surprises it will, on the whole, give a pretty general satisfaction. The nomination of Robert Lincoln as minister to England is at once a surprise and a tenstroke. Taken in connection with the selection of Fred Grant for Vienna, it conveys an appeal to the young republicanism veys an appeal to the young republicant of the period which cannot fail have its effect. Both these sons veys an appeal to the young republicanism of the period which cannot fail to have its effect. Both these sons of illustrious sires are American gentlemen without reproach and fully qualified personally and officially to represent the country handsomely and adequately in the old world. In bringing the journalism of the party to the front and stimulating that important branch of party service, the president shows both wisdom and sagacity. No better minister to France could have been found in any walk of life than Whitelaw Reid and no fitter consul-general to London than John C. New. Now we have Murat Halstead to Germany, and Thorndyke Rice to Russia. Mr. Rice is editor of the North American Review, a man of many accomplishments and large fortune, whose knowledge of European life and affairs is very great, and has not been obtained by the sacrifice of his Americanism. The selection of Mr. Halstead for Berlin is a particularly happy one. He is already well known to the Germans. In the Franco-German war he was the companion and guest of Von Moltke, met the great chancellor familiarly and often, and will be no stranger to the court to which he is accredited. He is personally both a handsome and a brilliant man, and will appear nowhere without distinction. The rest of the appointments are all in the same line, particularly that of Patrick Egan, which must at this moment be very gratifying to the Irish on both sides of the water. It costs us nothing to say these things. The contest between the democratic and republican particularly our representation abroad, in the hands of capable and good men, as it can never be to the literest of any party to raise false personal issues or deny politically a measure of justice which socially no one would think of withholding. All the appointments we have named are individually excellent and from a purely partisan standpoint made with admirable discernment and keen foresight."

THE COUNTRY IS OURS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27 .- A special California, says: A discovery is reported here which is said to be filling the Internaional Land company people with dread. Hidalgo the boundary line between the United States and Mexico was placed sixty oundary terminates on the Pacific cean at a point some distance ocean at a point some distance south of Ensenada. The treaty prescribes the line shull cut the mouth of the Colorado river, but the English maps extant at the time had the Gila river, whose mouth is near Yuma, incorrectly marked as the Colorado river. The mouth of the Colorado river is sixty miles south of Yuma, at Point laabel, and if the boundry line were to be drawn at that point it would place the town of Ensenada and all the country north of these places within the limits of the United States.

An Officer Sand-Bagged. HARRISBURG, Pa., March 27.—To-day an officer of the war department at Washngton came here to take charge of Capt. Craft, of the United States army, who has vening. The captain arrived here on a evening. The captain arrived here on a train from the west on that evening, and at the station acted as though demented. He was taken in charge, locked up and watched for fear he might do himself bodily injury. Last night he became more rational and said the last thing he could remember was that of somebody striking him on the head with the end of a revolver. His gold watch and $300 dollars in cash, he said, were missing. It is the theory of the police that Capt. Craft was sand-bagged and robbed and then placed on a train at some point west of this city, probably Pittsburg. He was taken to Washington this afternoon.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 27 .- Mind Reader lishop to-day performed his feat of finding needle, but it nearly cost him his life, and may yet result seriously. Bishop was not feeling very well, but was determined to keep his promise. The drive was a disto keep his promise. The drive was a distance over a mile through the most crowded streets of the city. Bishop blindfolded went straight to the hiding place of the needle, but immediately fell into a fit. His body became rigid and streams of perspiration flowed from him. The doctors say the fit is something like catelepsy. At a late hour this afternoon Bishop was in a very bad condition, coming out of one fit only to fall into another.

New York, March 27.—An absolute divorce was to-day granted the wife of Mind Reader Bishop.

BILLINGS, March 27. - [Special to the Independent.]-A stranger who claims to be a barber laid complaint this evening against Lou Carey, a character well known in this community from his connection with various - misdemeanors, claiming that Carey after inviting him in to dinner at Canyon creek, seven miles west of town had compelled him to give up his kit and money by threatening his life with a loaded rifle which Carey placed against his vic tim's temple. The barber thinking discre tion the better part of valor dropped his luggage right there and made tracks for town. Under Sheriff Erwin left this evening to arrest Carey. CHICAGO, March 27 .- Boodler McGarigle's sate return to Chicago soon was this State's Attorney Longnecker said: "The principal witness against McGarigle, Nic chneider, has allied himself with the fugitive's friends and is no longer in Illinois. In the absence of vital evidence I would be satisfied to end the case by having Mc-Garigle fined, provided, of course, he should return and enter a plea of guilty." The state's attorney seemed to think that a fine of one thousand dollars would be about right.

gan in the Ring Under Any Rules and for Any Amount.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 27 .- The fight between Harry Gilmore and Dannie Needham came off this morning eight miles up hard-hitting qualities that finally gave Needham the fight. In the twentieth round Gilmore received a terrific thump in the neck and went down like a log. He managed again to face the victor, when down he went again from a vicious left hander in the throat. This time he was not able to rise until too late and Needham won the battle. It was a good fight.

For the first ten rounds Needham did all the leading, getting in the most of the heavy blows, which were pretty well distributed over Gilmore's face, neck and body, while Gilmore frequently countered, though less heavily. No dangerous work had been done so far and no knockdown had occurred, though each had been forced to the ropes. In the eleventh round Gilmore did the first leading, and from that to the eighteenth pushed the fighting, in the nineteenth Needham be gan rushing and there was a lively ex-

NEW YORK, March 27 .- Jack Dempsey, alking to a reporter said: "I am going to end to Johny Reagan's case Thursday, will go to the Police Gazette office and match for $2,500. If we cannot agree on the amount of the stake I will fight Reagan for $1,000 a side before either of the California athletic clubs if they will offer a purse of $2,000 or $3,000. That ought to suit my young friend, and there should be no trouble in getting the California or Golden Gate Athletic club to put up such a purse, as they would make plenty of money out of the show. I am going to California soon, anyhow, and Reagan has
